

Your stores already generate the data. We let you earn from it.

Every visit to your stores leaves a record of who came in and what they bought. Nobody collects it. The companies that would pay most for it already pay you for shelf space. We turn that record into a product brands buy, and you take a share of what they pay.

YOUR INVESTMENT

Free platform, forever. No hardware to buy, no load on your IT, live in weeks. Your team sees every insight from your stores before anyone else does.

PER YEAR · NETWORK POTENTIAL

Up to €100k+

Paid by brands out of their budgets, not by you. It grows with the number of stores and categories you bring in.

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT

1 Who walks in, not how many

A counter at the door gives you a number. We read the brands they wear, the watch they train with, the stroller they push, the trip they are on, and match it to what they actually bought. 88+ details per shopper, on every visit. Observed, not surveyed. No panel, no recall.

2 Brands pay, you do not

Nestlé, P&G, Coca-Cola and the rest already spend heavily on shopper data elsewhere. Your stores produce exactly that data every day and throw it away. You approve every output, and anonymized aggregates are all a brand ever sees.

3 One founding partner per category

So the insight carries statistical weight for brands. Being one of the first partners means you help shape the product and get terms that will not be repeated later. Your category is still open.

Footfall counters, syndicated POS panels and your own loyalty program all take money out of your budget and give you a fraction of the picture. Everything else was built for a retailer who pays for data. This was built for one who gets paid for it.
